

Laugh in the holidays
on November 23rd...

Back by Popular Demand!

Set on Christmas Eve in a small Georgia radio station circa 1940, a group of actors awaits the arrival of Orson Welles, who is scheduled to make a guest appearance on their broadcast. This bright new holiday comedy played to sold out houses last season.

Join the Sonoma County Public Library Foundation and the Sonoma County Book Festival for a preview performance of 6th Street Playhouse's acclaimed production of Ham For The Holidays, written by Shad Willingham.

Tuesday, November 23 at 7pm. Tickets $25*

Curtain at 8pm.
